The Monastery | There are two parts to the little monastery. (The floor plan is below.) One of the four sides, the front of the little monastery, has a chapel and a large welcoming dining room where anyone can spend time with us, whether it be for a meal, or a simple time of friendship. We want each, but especially by those of the neighborhood suffering with addictions or other poverties, to feel that this is their monastery. It will not be a soup kitchen; we want to have a personal relationship with each person who comes, that you can feel welcome as in a family.

The Cloister | The rest of the monastery is the cloister; it is a place of prayer and silence, where the little brothers can rest at night (in the cells which are around the cloister) or study (our study is focused most of all on the Bible, the Fathers of the Church, and on the Catechism of the Church.) There is also an office where the little brothers can work on administrative and liturgical tasks.

The Chapel | Every morning and evening the brothers can be found praying in the chapel. It is also the place where we have a weekly chapter, and the daily chapter of forgiveness (when we ask for each other’s forgiveness). When a friend or a visitor comes to the monastery we lead them first to the chapel for a time of prayer together.
